The Small Print

If you wish to go ahead then I require a £40 non refundable deposit.

The rest of the fees will be due when your Stationery is ready. By paying the deposit you're not committing to a certain number of invites, or a certain design - you're just committing to Rose & Grace designing your Stationery. Throughout the design process you're welcome to change your mind on the design and quantities etc. Wedding Planning can be both fun, and stressful, so I aim to make this as easy a process as possible for you.

All text (names, addresses, personalisation details etc) must be supplied in an email/word/pages document. I do not accept handwritten content as there is too much room for error. I will show you regular updates as to how the design is going and keep you in the loop at all times.

You will receive a digital proof of all files to check over, and nothing goes to print without your final approval.

All proofs must be thoroughly proof read and signed off by yourselves before printing can commence. I accept no responsibility for spelling mistakes and errors if the proofs have been accepted by yourselves. I'd highly recommend sending these proofs to another trusted person, as it's so easy to skim read something when we get too familiar with it.

Postage and Packaging is not included. Postage will be based on your order and added to your final invoice.

Stationery will be sent via a Courier to the UK and will require a signature.

Happy to begin? Just let me know and we'll get the ball rolling:)

Love from Rebekah
